

I am saddened by Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their viewers to watch their political propaganda on our public airwaves. This is wrong and unfair and sets a very bad example.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. I don't understand this betrayal of our (the public and USA citizens) trust - and it seems that it crosses the line - can this be legal? It certainly seems unfair and biased and wrong.

What happened to fairness? This shows me why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
